PURIM, SPIDERMAN AND VOLODYMYR ZELENSKY... WHAT DO JEWISH HEROES LOOK LIKE?

BY RABBI
FELIPE GOODMAN

As I struggled to try on my brand new Spiderman outfit for Purim I realized that I could have chosen many other different outfits that did not involve the use of spandex. I was trying to order my costume on line and I found myself exchanging emails with a costumer service representative in a far away country. After agreeing to the quality of the spandex he proceeded to ask me as to what kind of Spiderman suit I wanted: "Will it be the classic Spiderman, maybe The Spiderman comes home suit? Perhaps the black and white Spiderman?" "No," I wrote, "just fat Spiderman will be ok, something that fits me!"

We wear costumes on Purim to remind us of the type of miracle that God performed for The Jewish People in Persia. God's face remained hidden throughout the entire story. The story is poignant because it reminds us that without human beings helping themselves, many times God is unable to help. One of the most undeniable traits of freedom of choice is that when we make the wrong choices the consequences that follow have little to do with God and much to do with us. This is how I chose to see the story of Purim. What makes Mordechai and Esther true heroes is the ability to take charge of their own story and control the narrative. Mordechai and Esther both refuse to have others write their story for them.

When we look at our world today it is easy to be disheartened by what is happening around us. The situation in Ukraine is indeed something that none of us could have imagined happening in the midst of the Twenty First Century. Europe again at war, refugees, the indiscriminate murder of civilians! At the center of the drama a soft spoken, medium built Jewish man who seems to be eight feet tall. Volodymyr Zelenskyy,

The President of Ukraine has emerged as one of those once in a lifetime historical figures that inspires not only his own people but the entire world. Not unlike in the story of Purim, he understands that the survival of his people depends on acting as if everything depends on him and those around him. We can pray for The Ukrainian People all day long but ultimately human actions will determine what ultimately happens to them. They are defending their country and their lives heroically and we from the sidelines have the God assigned obligation to not remain silent and to make sure that all that can be done is done to help them defend themselves.

When we look at the images on our television screens it is impossible not to feel pain, anger and frustration. Remember, the face of God is hidden in the faces of all those fighting for their lives, fighting for good to triumph over evil. The face of God is hidden in the faces of the few fighting against the many. This is a lesson that we as Jews understand more than anyone else on this world.

I pray that the ultimate message of our Purim observance, beyond the unrestrained joy that historical survival brings about is that God allows us to feel God's presence in our actions as we try to make our life a blessing to help all who need our help.

I DID IT MY WAY

BY ASSISTANT RABBI
JONATHAN HODSON

As a Rabbi, I tend to be in the cemetery more than the average person. Not only in one particular cemetery by the way; no, when you're clergy in Las Vegas—you tend to do a circuit of various graveyards all over town. Every one of them is unique, with its own feel and layout. To the laymen, I supposed every cemetery is the same, but if you're the one officiating the service, you quickly realize that each cemetery has its own character.

However, the one thing I have noticed about Las Vegas cemeteries in particular is a similar inscription found on many of the headstones. When I initially saw it I thought it was clever, but now it is so common-place. I'm beginning to wonder if the joke is on me. It's simply five words from the popular song that Frank Sinatra made famous: "I Did It My Way."

Now I understand this totally makes sense to put on a headstone. Seemingly, each grave marker presents all that is left of one's journey in life. Many of the tombstones attempt to tell a story about who the person was; what they loved and how they lived. Of course, every individual is unique and the life they led was also unique. However, there is something ironic about the idea that the most common phrase left embroidered on a headstone is, "I Did It My Way" because apparently everyone else did it that way too!

This phrase presents a very telling notion about the human psyche. We all tend to think that our experience on this earth is completely our own. After all, we each have a personal and unique set of challenges, backgrounds, and values. We know what we like and what we don't, what we believe in and who we love. We carve our own path through life, navigating it as best we can. We think because of this, that we are in control of our own destiny. Unfortunately, as someone who spends too much time in cemeteries, I can attest that is usually not the case.

The cemetery is the ultimate testament to the fact that we are all the same. We are all human beings made of flesh and blood, and therefore we all will meet the same fate. During the High Holidays, our tradition demands that we confront this reality. We ponder which amongst us will make it to the next year, and who will die? "Who by fire, who by the sword?"

Now I know this might not be the most uplifting of notes to read, but I think it's important. In fact, if there's one thing that being in the cemetery has taught me, it's that we need to appreciate the life that we do have. It's important to hug our loved ones and to keep up with old friends. It's necessary to challenge ourselves to be the best versions of us that we can be. If that's what it means to do it "My Way", then I'm all for it!

Maybe it's because I'm a Rabbi, but I'm hoping one day to walk past a headstone that reads "I Did It God's Way." The Torah and its traditions are God's way of instructing us how to live and how to have happy and productive life. Perhaps if we begin to follow this set of instructions, we can live to our fullest potential.

--Rabbi Jonathan Hodson

FROM THE PRESIDENT

BY BILL MASON

Greetings fellow Temple Beth Sholom congregants. I sincerely hope this message finds all of us doing well. It looks like Winter is passing and we are moving into an early Spring. It also appears that we can now venture out again unmasked. It was a pleasure to sit on the Bimah and look out to a nearly full house last Friday night for our services after the community dinner. The dinner was well attended, and the Golden Knights fan club was strongly represented. Though I believe I was the only Miami Dolphin jersey wearing fan in attendance. It was still a great event.

To provide everyone with a brief summary of the State of the Temple, financially we are still matching our budgeted revenue and expenses for 2021-2022. That is both good and bad. It is good that we are operating as planned, but it is also bad because we projected a structural loss for the year. Our fundraising efforts have been successful, but our membership numbers have remained fairly sluggish. We have maintained our membership numbers, but we need to increase our paying members to bring us closer to an operational breakeven for the fiscal year. Please look to future correspondence regarding options for a new member campaign. The Membership Committee has been putting together a few options to increase Temple membership. Working together we can increase Temple membership.

Our initial plans to host a gala this spring hit a snag in the planning stage and had to be cancelled. However, we were able to come up with a very exciting option for the Fall. Look to future issues of the Temple Bulletin for announcements regarding this event. This event offers a bold, exciting, and very entertaining option for the entire Las Vegas Jewish Community. This will be an event that everyone will enjoy attending.

Additionally, it is our pleasure to announce The Leon H. Steinberg Jewish Spirit Scholarship Fund at TBS. The Steinberg Scholarship Fund has been established to provide financial assistance to local Jewish youth looking to attend a Jewish based Summer Camp Program. The program is available to all Jewish youth living in Las Vegas. Please contact Rabbis Hodson or Goodman if you want to learn more about the Leon Steinberg Jewish Spirit Scholarship Fund. Temple Beth Sholom will also be hosting annual events to help generate donations in support the Fund. Please feel free to join in and support the education of our local youth. Together we can help make the Las Vegas Jewish community stronger.

Please be aware that we continue to take our members' safety as a paramount concern. Temple Beth Sholom is in the process of performing a Security Assessment, and is also actively training all our staff, Clergy, and instructors in the most up to date safety measures. Our team is receiving instructions by fully trained security personnel. We strive to create an environment where all our students, members, and staff can worship, learn, and work in a safe and secure facility.

Thank you for your continued support of the Temple Beth Sholom community.

SCHOOL DIRECTOR

The Sandra and Stanley Mallin Early Childhood Center and The Lovee and Bob Arum Kindergarten at Temple Beth Shalom (TBSECC) held an intimate luncheon in December to recognize and honor a small group of exceptional members of the TBSECC community.

The nominees were originally to be honored at the annual fundraising event, “Night Under the Stars,” in April of 2020. Due to the world-wide pandemic, this scheduled event had to be cancelled but TBSECC finally had the opportunity to show appreciation for these outstanding honorees.

A delicious lunch was served that was prepared by the school Director herself and each were presented with an award and flowers to commemorate the occasion. It was a special event to recognize their efforts and commitment to making TBSECC an excellent preschool.

The annual “Night Under the Stars” fundraiser is the largest event of the year for TBSECC. This event is a time to mix and mingle with friends and families of TBSECC while supporting the school in a significant way. Each year, two teachers, a parent, and a community partner are nominated to be honored for their hard work and dedication to the TBSECC family. Keep a look out for information regarding the 2022 event and nominees!

For more information about “Night Under the Stars” or the early childhood program at TBS, contact Jennifer Zukowski, ECC Director at 702-804-1333 ext 112 or jzukowski@bethsholomlv.org.

YOUTH

Back at it after the new year! After an exciting first semester, students are excited to be back with their friends in-person for our USY and KADIMA activities. As I write this bulletin article, we are preparing for our first in-person Lounge Night without mandatory masks and I must say, I am excited to see all of our teens faces again. Our weekly programming has been great thus far, and is only promising to be better as the year continues!

While Lounge Nights are fun for our USYers every week, this month we had an opportunity to bring our USYers and KADIMAnics together for Movie Night at the Suncoast Movie Theater! This event, sponsored by our USY chapter, brought together over 20 kids for a private viewing of "Sing 2". We had so much fun hanging out together and enjoying this funny movie.

We are very busy preparing for annual Purim Carnival which is going to take place this year on March 13 from 11am - 3pm. This event, the largest fundraiser of the year for our youth department, brings together the entire Las Vegas Valley, regardless of faith, for a fun afternoon of jump houses, obstacle courses, performers from Cirque Du Soleil, separate area for children under 6, carnival games and prizes, and even a raffle! If you are able to help sponsor this amazing experience, please e-mail me at djsinai@bethsholomlv.org.

Also, put this on your radar! On Sunday, April 24 from 2p - 4p, USY is sponsoring a private skating event at City National Arena for our entire Temple Beth Sholom Community! Keep an eye out for more information following soon. As always, for more information on youth programming at TBS for students in grades 4 - 12, please e-mail me at djsinai@bethsholomlv.org.

THE JUDY & RONALD MACK SCHOOL FOR RELIGIOUS STUDIES

RABBI JONATHAN HODSON
RELIGIOUS SCHOOL DIRECTOR

LIVING THE PARSHA

At the Judy and Ronald Mack school for Religious Studies, we're always trying to find unique and innovative ways to teach our children Jewish ideas and traditions. Sometimes, this can be a challenge because the belief system of the ancient Israelites that the Torah talks about is significantly different than the religion of modern Judaism. So, how do we make it applicable to kids living in the 21st Century?

For the past four weeks at religious school on Monday nights, our students have been "Living the Parsha." We take themes and elements from the Torah portion for the week and come up with a series of activities or crafts for our children to engage with. This can be anything from building a pyramid out of sugar cubes to shooting a foam bow and arrow set. We even made (and then ate) a miniature altar out of fig newtons with an animal-cracker sacrifice!

Sometimes, we even try to make it challenging. On February 14th, students were given a set of materials to make a "Moses Mobile;" a car with sail made from popsicle sticks and tape. Their goal was to knock down the golden calf statue at the end of the course! I'm happy to say that our students were successful.

So yes, while elements of our tradition might be somewhat foreign to a modern learner, we here at Temple Beth Sholom's Religious School are never going to stop trying to make them as relevant as possible.

WOMEN'S LEAGUE

By Whitney Sadow | Women's League President

Each year for the last 80 years Women's League groups around the world have fundraised for Torah Fund. Each year Torah Fund chooses a theme this year's theme is B'Yachad which means Together. We seem to be slowing getting back together. We look forward to seeing you in the near future at a program.

In 1942 Torah Fund started out as just a scholarship fund. Today Torah Fund and its special campaigns not only provides scholarships, but they also help build residence halls, stock libraries, establish new programs, create gardens & study spaces for students, and help students financially who were in Israel but could not work due to visa restrictions.

We make this happen together. Join us for our Annual Torah Fund event on February 27th 10:30 am to 12:30 pm at Temple Beth Sholom for a fabulous brunch honoring 4 wonderful women for their years of devotion, leadership & generosity to Torah Fund. Please rsvp by February 20th to Melanie Greenberg at melanieglv@gmail.com.

MEN'S CLUB

By Ken Heck | Men's Club President

Another month; more events, more organized. Please see our new webpage at <https://www.bethsholomlv.org/mens-club>. Thanks to Willow for creating this page for our Club. Please go to the webpage to join Men's Club. Dues are only $50/year and are used to create events and give B'nai Mitzvah gifts.

The Board of the Men's Club is working hard to create events to help build our TBS community. On February 13th, the Men of TBS teach the Teens of TBS to lay tefillin at the World Wide Wrap. The minyan crew enjoyed having fresh faces at the service, and the younger participants got to experience a full-speed-ahead minyan followed by bagels & lox. The breakfast was sponsored and hosted by Ben & Jill Super.

The Men's Club has begun a Shiva Minyan support program. It's hard enough to lose a loved one, you shouldn't have to beg for a minyan also. We are coordinating with the Temple office, but feel free to reach out to mensclub@bethsholomlv.org if you know of a shiva house that needs some additional attendees.

Our upcoming events include a speaker's event on March 20, and the 3rd annual Chai Roller Poker Tournament in April. We look forward to seeing everyone soon.

B'NEI MITZVAH

GAVIN SULLIVAN

APRIL 2ND, 2022

Hi. My name is Gavin Sullivan and I am becoming a Bar mitzvah on April 2nd. I am in seventh grade at Sig Rogich. My favorite thing to do is play basketball. When I am not playing basketball, I like to hang out with my friends and fly out to see my sister, Alana, in college. Occasionally I also hang out with my other sister, Renae, who I am going to miss terribly when she leaves to college this fall. During the summer I attend Camp Ramah in California, and am excited to go back this summer to hang out with some of my best friends, and it is the last year my sister Renae will be there.

For my mitzvah project I am collecting all sports gear, including clothes, shoes, and balls for the homeless youth. It makes me so sad to see homeless people on the streets and even more so with homeless youth. I am so lucky to have everything I have and I want to be able to give what I can to the kids that don't have much. Sports is important to me because it gives me exercise and I get to instantly have a group of friends from my team. I want to give homeless youth the ability to play sports by giving them the equipment that they need to participate.

I look forward to April 2nd, not only for becoming a bar mitzvah, but to be able to see my family and friends that I have not seen over the past 2 years because of Covid.

LILAH AZOUS

APRIL 30TH, 2022

Lilah Azous will become a bat mitzvah at the end of April. Covid pushed her date back almost a year so she is very happy it is finally here. She is an 8th grader at Alexander Dawson school and is a High Honor Roll student and a member of National Junior Honor Society. She has received multiple academic and arts awards at Dawson, since moving to Nevada from Connecticut almost 2 years ago. Since moving she has made some truly amazing friendships, has enjoyed exploring the desert and getting a taste of the exciting things Las Vegas has to offer. Lilah has spent multiple summers at Camp Modin in Maine and this past summer was at Camp Schechter in Seattle, a camp that her father attended when he was young. She is an exceptional lacrosse player having played since 3rd grade. In Las Vegas she plays for an elite travel team and looks forward to continuing playing in high school next year.
